The Golan Trail

GETTING THERE

You are already there!

From Odem Mountain walk - North towards Mt. Hermon or South to Mt. Bental

Take the bus back or hitchhike, which is very common and safe around the Golan Heights.

WHY WE LIKE IT?

Because nature is just outside the door.

From Odem you can go north to Mt. Hermon - 17 km of forest, orchards and Druze villages.

Or south to Mt. Bental - 16 km through the valley of tears (1967 war), lakes and views over Syria

GOOD TO KNOW

You can also hike the other way from Mt. Hermon or Mt. Bental back to Odem.

Hiking north you can visit the Druze villages for supply. On the way south there are no shops at all - take all supply with you.

Take 3 liters of water
Wear shoes or good sandals

The highest hike in Israel

Descending from an altitude of 1,480 meters, The Golan Trail start/end on Mt. Hermon and cross the Golan to the see of Galilee. 128 km of mountains, lakes, springs and a lot of nature.
